This Week

What an unusual week this has been! No school usually means the start of the holidays but this week we have all been learning from home. I hope you are all settling into a new routine and finding time to do some learning. I had a difficult start to the week as my baby, Harry, was poorly and had a ride in an ambulance! He is much better now though and is back to his usual (very noisy!) self. We have been for a walk each day in the sunshine and today we stopped to feed the ducks. Doing a little exercise each day is great for your body and mind. Have you tried Jo Wicks workout on Youtube live at 9am? I have been doing some reading each day and I'm learning lots about how to keep our minds healthy. What have you been reading? The highlight of my week was standing at my front door and clapping for all of the brave and hardworking doctors and nurses. What amazing people they are!

This week I have sent out an email to each of your parents with a unique code for them to sign themselves and you up to Class Dojo! This is a fantastic way for us all to stay connected. I will set you assignments and weekly spelling tests and you can submit your work using text, photographs, drawings and videos! I can't wait to see and comment on all of your work! But that's not all....you can upload ANY work or anything exciting you have been doing at home to share with me, including your Foundation Friday projects. This could be something you've made, something you'd like to tell me, a new trick you've taught your dog – just add it to your portfolio! Parents can also message me on there if you need any help or if they have any questions and I will respond as soon as I can.

Stars of the Week!

Maya

Well done to Maya for being the very first person to complete our first assignment on Class Dojo!

ClassDojo

Assignments

1. Create your own child account on Class Dojo and connect with us (Your parent should have an email with your own unique code)
2. Complete your first assignment – Your first task is to let me know you're connected by saying hello!

(See our class page on the website for more information)

Just a reminder...

- Check the website or Class Dojo for next week's timetable.

- Sign up to Class Dojo and create a student account to complete new assignments.

- Weekly spelling test coming soon! Keep an eye on Class Dojo for this.

For the Parents:

Each week, our newsletter will be mostly aimed at the children but please do read it together and remember to check this section for any important messages for parents.

- Next week is World Autism Awareness Week. Parents, you can find resources here → <https://www.autism.org.uk/get-involved/world-autism-awareness-week/schools/free-school-resources.aspx> There is a video and some activities which you may wish to complete with your child or you may simply like to have a discussion about how we are all unique.
- If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact me directly via Class Dojo. If you are having problems connecting to Class Dojo then please email the school office.
